Hankins, Wood named in lawsuit

By Jamie S. Baker
Publisher

A former captain at the Grant County Detention Center last week amended a previous lawsuit to now include the current jailer and judge.

The original lawsuit, filed in October 2014, named Terry Peeples, former jailer, and former Grant County Judge-Executive Darrell Link as defendants.

The amended lawsuit, filed by Steve Skinner on May 13, alleges that he was retaliated against first by Peeples, for complaining about how Peeples operated the jail, treated the employees and spent taxpayer money. Skinner claimed that Peeples falsified business records, misappropriated funds and installed hidden recording devices to spy on employees.

Skinner's lawsuit alleges the retaliation continued by Chris Hankins, who defeated Peeples for the jailer's seat in November 2014 and took office in January.

> "We are working on updating employee policies right now. It's in the process."

Skinner alleges he was fired after Hankins and Grant County Judge-Executive Steve Wood "collaborated" and changed the GCDC policies making him ineligible to work at the facility.

Hankins' term as jailer began on Jan. 1, 2015, but he did not report to work until Jan. 5 in his newly elected role because of the holidays.

Police seek suspect in Dollar store robbery

By Bryan Marshall
Staff Writer

Dry Ridge Police are searching for a knife-wielding suspect in an armed robbery on May 18 at Dollar General.

The robbery occurred around 9 a.m., according to Dry Ridge Police Chief Rick Kells.

"The (suspect) pulled a knife on (the employee) and told her to give him all the money that was in the cash drawer," Kells said. "A customer had pulled up in the parking lot and saw the guy in there. They are the ones who called 911. Then the customer left."

Another employee was in the back of the store at the time and did not witness the robbery.

There were no customers in the store at the time of the robbery.

Once the suspect took the money, he fled on foot in the direction of the Locust Ridge area.

The suspect is described as a white male about five feet, five inches tall and weighing between 140 and 155 pounds.

He was last seen wearing a dark-colored hooded jacket with gold writing on it, according to Kells.

During the robbery, the suspect's face was covered and he wore a hood and gloves.

Kells said it is possible the suspect may have been seen walking around the area of Blackburn Drive earlier that morning.

The Grant County Sheriff's Office and Kentucky State Police initially assisted with looking for the suspect.

Anyone with information about the robbery is asked to call 428-1212.

Marsha Chaney, director of the Grant County Animal Shelter, attended the Kentucky Animal Care and Control Association's Annual Training Conference. She was named the KACC animal shelter employy of year. Photo submitted

Chaney named animal shelter employee of year

Recently, the Director of the Grant County Animal Shelter Marsha Chaney attended the Kentucky Animal Care and Control Association's Annual Training Conference. The training covered a variety of topics including Tactical Interpersonal Communication, Control Tactics, Self Defense, and safe handling of aggressive canines.

The Kentucky Animal Care and Control Association (KACCA) was incorporated in March, 1988, for the purpose to improve the skills, knowledge, abilities, and image of animal care and control personnel; to improve animal control care practices; to inform the public on the nature and importance of animal control care work and to promote better laws and law-enforcement methods relating to animals.

Every year the association selects a shelter employee of the year, animal control officer of the year and agency of the year based on job performance and accomplishments. This year KACCA was honored to present the Animal Shelter Employee of the Year award to Marsha Chaney. Chaney became the director of the shelter in August 2010 and as soon as taking over she hit the ground running offering new and innovative services.

The same month that she took over, she started offering spay/neuter programs for Grant County. She have been doing two clinics every month for almost three years straight and are still doing some sporadically when they have the animals to send. Chaney took it upon herself to improve her agency by implementing several programs such as: Foster to Adopt program, Match and Meet, Meet and Greet and a Barn Cat Program. One of the more innovative programs that she started was the Pit Stop program where she utilizes grant money to alter Pit Bull and Pit Bull mixes for free which has caused a dramatic decrease in the number of Pit Bulls that enter the shelter. She also began using social media and adoption websites as marketing tools that are of no cost to the Grant County tax payers. Grant County's live release rate for 2014 was 92 percent for dogs and 68 percent for cats which is incredibly better than the national average for animal shelters.

Memorial Day a time to remember, appreciate freedoms we have given

Brian
LINDER
State Representative

One of our greatest presidents and Kentucky native, Abraham Lincoln, once said of our country, "America will never be destroyed from the outside. If we falter and lose our freedoms, it will be because we destroyed ourselves." That quote comes to mind as we gather in the coming days to honor those who have fought and died in wars foreign and domestic to continue to guarantee the freedom that makes us the envy of other nations and their people around the world. By the time we gather for Memorial Day, Kentucky will have selected candidates to represent both parties for the office of Governor and Lt. Governor, Attorney General, and other statewide offices. According to data released days before the May primary election, the Secretary of State's Office predicted only one in 10 registered voters would cast a ballot. I wonder when our forefathers first decided to take up arms and fight against the tyranny of the kings and queens they would imagine millions of Americans would not take the opportunity to freely choose who will represent them. Since those first shots were fired in support of a free America, millions of our men and women have died in battle to keep what our nation was built on intact, and help other nations escape the grip of brutal leaders bent on the destruction of their freedom.

Thinking about it brings up the question, are we taking our freedom in this country for granted? I know when I speak to a solider currently serving abroad, or a veteran who shares stories of losing a friend in battle, you can see in their faces or hear in their voices the understanding of how important their roles are in defense of the United States and the basic foundations our country was based upon. Last week marked the 228th anniversary when a Constitutional Convention was gathered in Philadelphia, with George Washington presiding, to begin work on what would become our nation's Constitution. They did so with a fresh outlook on our nation, and the recent memory of the lives lost to reach that point. As we gather for the various ceremonies to honor those who have fought and died, let's also take the time to appreciate what Memorial Day stands for and have a refreshed appreciation for what we have been given. For as Ronald Reagan once said, "Freedom is never more than one generation away from extinction. We didn't pass it to our children in their bloodstream. It must be fought for, protected, and handed on to them to do the same."

A WORD FROM OUR READERS

Payday loans thrive in Kentucky, thanks to legislators

We would like for the voters of the 17th Senate District to know that their Senator, Majority Floor Leader Damon Thayer, stood with other members of Senate Republican Leadership to block a hearing on Senate Bill 32, which calls for capping payday lending interest rates at 36 percent a year. The payday loan industry can currently charge borrowers up to 391 percent interest, while all other lenders are limited to 36 percent per year. This has been the case only since 1998 when the payday loan industry cut a deal with the General Assembly at the expense of borrowers and the Kentucky economy.

Payday lenders say they deserve special consideration because of the short term nature of the loan. They say they offer a one-time quick fix, but the truth is that they trap borrowers in a cycle of debt. Ninety-nine percent of payday loans in Kentucky in 2013 were generated by borrowers taking out multiple loans per year. The average payday loan borrower in Kentucky is stuck in 10 loans per year.

Senate Bill 32 was assigned to the State and Local Government Committee, where eight of 11 members signaled their support. Despite this overwhelming display of support, Senate leadership used their power to prevent the bill from getting a fair hearing. Why would Senate leadership oppose a bill, which stands to benefit thousands of Kentuckians? Why would leadership stand in the way of leveling the playing field for all lending businesses in the state?

Leadership's decision does not reflect the views of the 73 percent of Kentuckians (Republicans and Democrats equally) who support a 36 percent cap on payday loans. Nor does it reflect the views of the 32 faith groups and 57 non-profits which make up the Kentucky Coalition for Responsible Lending. These are people who have experience with picking up the pieces when desperate borrowers come to them for help with getting out of the payday loan debt trap.

Please let Senator Thayer and your state representative know that you are outraged that the General Assembly has allowed 391 percent loans to thrive in our state. This year's session has ended, but it is not too soon to get the message out for the 2016 session. Call Senator Thayer at his Frankfort office (502) 564-2450 or write him at 702 Capitol Avenue, Annex Room 242, Frankfort, Kentucky 40601.

First Grant County alumni football game was a success

As coordinator of the Grant County Alumni Football game, I would like to take this time to thank the people that helped make this game a success. First on the list are the players! These fine men gave up their time away from their families, friends and their hobbies to make it to practice. The players showed such class and pride on the football field and showed true meaning to brotherhood and Brave spirit! They are true assets to our community.

When I asked Coach Mike Davis and Defensive Coordinator Ken Little to coach the game, there was no hesitation, and for this I am truly grateful. Our announcer, Bill Wessell, said he was honored to do the game for me, but it was I that was truly honored to have this fine man help me.

He did such a great job! The Chain Gang Gary Rump, Paul Mansfield and Anthony Shebley, I can always count on you guys. The standby EMT, Calvin Shebley, thanks for being there and handling the few that did need your help.

Thank you Coach Siple for letting us use our old jerseys and represent the Blue and Gold colors. Although the players had filled out a little more than they had in high school, the jerseys were perfect! Thanks to the Boone County PeeWee league for use of their field. They were so easy to work with and they provided everything we could possibly need. Thank you to Grant County Drugs and Minuteman Press for being our sponsors.

When times got tough and I would get discouraged, my son KJ would keep the momentum up for me, even though he wasn't able to play.

Thanks KJ for building me back up and I hope to see you in the lineup next year. Last of all, I would like to thank the families, friends, fans, cheerleaders and supporters of Grant County football.

The stands were full and it was so much fun to play to a full house. All of these players hadn't been in pads for years (some more than others) and you truly made this a night to remember for them.

With your support, we are able to contribute $1,400 to the Grant County High School Football team. I look forward to putting another game together to keep the tradition going.

We are Grant County Proud. We are the Braves.

DOWN AND DIRTY

Made in the shade

It is strange, but true…people often refer to shade as a problem. How many times have you heard of people desperately searching for that one magic thing they can do to get grass to grow underneath a pin oak? Why can't we just accept the fact that it just isn't possible and move on to better things?

And, there are lots of better things when it comes to shade, but first assess the environment of your shady spot by noting the time of day it gets sun; if it never gets sun; or if there is filtered sunlight through deciduous trees. You may even consider pruning some of your trees to allow some filtered light through. Some blooming plants can tolerate complete shade while others need some filtered sunlight in order to bloom well.

This is a good time of the year for enjoying shade plants. Many of our favorites are spring blooming woodland plants like Jacob's ladder, trillium, primula, hardy woodland geraniums, columbine, wood poppies, epimedium, bleeding hearts and Solomon's seal. Although they bloom in spring, most hold their foliage through the rest of the season continuing to add color and texture.

Variegated Solomon's seal, for instance, is of particular interest to many gardeners. I have never met a person who has grown this plant and doesn't rave about it. Pearl-like blooms line the bottom side of the stems as the green and white variegated leaves reach up and arch over in a tight and orderly formation. Solomon's seal colonizes well so in a couple of years you have a good stand of this easy-to-grow shade perennial (it can tolerate full sun, too).

Don't overlook ferns for texture. The tall, erect growing matteuccia struthiopteris, or the ostrich fern, will reach four to five feet in height. Its dark green fronds and vase shape are complimented well by smaller ferns like adiantum pedatum or the maidenhair fern. The maidenhair fern is late to come up so don't be alarmed if it doesn't appear until early summer. I have met with great success using athyrium niponicum 'Pictum'. The fronds of this fern are silver-gray with maroon stalks and mid-ribs. It has flourished in somewhat of a dry shade situation (with periodic irrigation during the summer). The cinnamon and royal ferns are also vigorous growers (osmunda cinnamomea and o. regalis); as are the autumn fern (dennstaedtia punctilobula) and the hay scented fern (dryopteris erythrosora). All perform well in relatively dry shade and they colonize well. Basically, there are about a million ferns that will do well in zone 6, well maybe not a million. Ferns prefer moist shade but certainly will perform well enough in dry shade with some irrigation until they are well-established.

Whatever you choose, your shade plants can achieve a naturalized or formal look depending on what woody plants you combine them with. If you want your shade garden to have a more natural look stick to the herbaceous plants. If you want it to appear more formal add any number of woody shrubs or small under-story trees to the mix.

Good shady companions include azaleas, rhododendrons (maybe slightly over-used), many hydrangea species, callicarpa, clethra, enkianthus and bottlebrush buckeyes. Some trees include the fringe tree, the Carolina silverbell, parrotia, stewartia, serviceberry and certainly many species of dogwoods and redbuds. The point is that there are many under-story trees, shrubs and herbaceous plants that can help transform shady areas into a shady summer resting spot.

RELIGIOUS VIEWS

Invest

What is a good investment today? Several strong companies that enjoyed superior reputation years ago are now struggling. Financial investing has always been risky, and the risk has increased in our economy.

An investment that always provides a positive return is investing in the lives of people for the glory of Christ. God promises a reward for our service if we stay faithful in serving Christ (Gal. 6:7-9).

I. Slow down

Jesus' encounter with two blind men on the Jericho road reveals several key principles for investing our lives in others. First, we must slow down. Matthew 20:32 says, "Jesus stopped." What appears to be a rather simple fact is actually a significant step in serving others. Jesus was leaving Jericho. He had another appointment. He had already spent time ministering in Jericho, and now he was going to another town. But, he stopped! Our pace of life often becomes so fast that we speed past ministry opportunities. Jesus stopped. He slowed down. He allowed His temporary schedule to be interrupted for an eternal investment.

II. See the big picture

To minister effectively we must embrace a servant philosophy. The Bible says, "Consider others as more important than yourselves" (Philippians 2:3). The opening verse of our text describes the glorious Son of Man as one who came to serve not to be served. The big picture of life is far greater than our personal desires and dreams. When we see the big picture, we notice that all people are important to Christ. Jesus demonstrates amazing love to all who call upon His name. God specializes in doing extraordinary things with ordinary people.

III. Serve with compassion

Jesus modeled genuine service by slowing down and seeing the big picture. He also served with compassion. "Moved with compassion, Jesus touched their eyes" (Matt. 20:34). Many seek the applause of men instead of the approval of God. These blind men begged for mercy. They did not offer to pay Jesus for healing. Christ-honoring service is motivated by compassion - not compensation. Our reward has been reserved for us in heaven because no bank on earth could contain the incomparable riches of serving Christ.

Lady Braves pull off big district win

The Grant County Lady Braves softball team pulled off a big win on May 18, in the 32nd District battle against Walton-Verona.

The 2-1 victory avenged two earlier season losses against the Lady Bearcats for the Lady Braves.

Savannah Cobb took the mound and scattered seven hits over the seven innings that she pitched.

The Lady Braves played great defense behind her, committing only three errors in the game.

One of those errors was in the second inning where the Lady Bearcats could have had a big inning.

Alyson Boore led off with a single to center and she tried to move up on an errant throw back into the infield but catcher Brenna Nolte was backing up the play at first. Boore tried making it to second but Nolte's throw was perfect and Boore was tagged out by Taylor Souder.

That was a big play because the Lady Bearcats next batter Rachel Hendren hit a long double to left center that surely would have scored Boore even from first base. Hendren was left on second when Cobb was able to strike out the next batter and get the next on a week ground out to second base.

The Bearcats were able to plate their only run of the game in the fourth inning when they collected back-to-back singles and the Braves committed two of their three errors on the night.

But the Lady Braves averted a big inning by a stellar play at first base by Madison Ruebusch.

Ruebusch was able to chase down a pop fly in short right field that would have fallen for a hit and driven in another run.

The Lady Braves got all the scoring they needed in the third inning.

Mallory Robinson reached with one out on a throwing error by the third baseman. After a strikeout, Taylor Souder stepped to the plate with two outs.

Souder, as she has done all season for the Lady Braves, came up with a big hit, a triple to deep left field.

Robinson scored on the play and with Souder on third, Nolte hit a liner down the third base line that drove in Souder to push the Lady Braves to a 2-0 lead at that time.

That would prove to be all the runs they needed in the game.

Over the next three innings they went three up and three down.

The Lady Braves did threaten to score some insurance runs in the top of the seventh.

They loaded the bases with only one out but they were not able to score a run.

The Lady Braves collected five hits on the night led by Nolte's three singles and an RBI, Souder's triple and RBI.

Senior Kaitlyn Kinman had the other Braves' hit.

Lady Demons lose heartbreaker

By Tim Seevers
Sports Correspondent

The Williamstown Lady Demons played host to the districts this year and entered their District 32 game with Simon Kenton with a lot of confidence.

That confidence was destroyed when they lost 4-0 on May 18 at Williamstown High School.

Williamstown loaded the bases in the first inning but was not able to cross the plate.

That would be the last opportunity for the Lady Demons to score until the sixth inning when they left two runners stranded on the bases.

Williamstown collected only three hits on the night.

Jade Pinkston went the distance for the Lady Demons in the loss, pitching a no-hitter.

The problem was the defense.

The youthful Demons struggled fielding and throwing the ball all night long.

Simon Kenton scored a run in the second on two Lady Demon errors.

They scored another run in the fourth when Pinkston walked two batters.

She would have gotten out of the inning if not for two more errors.

The sixth inning was the same for the Lady Demons.

Simon Kenton pushed two more runs across the plate helped by another walk, a batter who was hit by a pitch and two errors.

The Lady Demons finished a winning record of 13-12.

They will return all their players and have a lot of talent to build upon.

Simon Kenton leads the region with a 23-14 record.

Demons, Braves head to state track, field meet this weekend

The Williamstown Boys Track team will be well represented at the Class A State Championship this Friday and Saturday, May 22-23 in Lexington.

Williamstown's 4 X 200 relay team of Damon Renner, Landon Hare, Dustin Smith and Walker Angell have qualified for the Class A State meet.

The team ran the 4 X 200 in a time of 1:37.79.

Sophomore Landon Hare will compete in the 100- and 200-meter dash. He qualified for the state by running the 100-meter dash in 11.81 seconds and the 200-meter dash in 23.89 seconds.

Grant County High School will be represented by Blake Johnson.

The junior is the lone representative for Grant County at the 3A State individual event of the high jump.

Johnson finished second at the regional with a jump of 6 feet, 2 inches.

Former Head Coach Mike Davis and former Assistant Coach Ken Little, led the Braves that ranged from players of the 1996 team to the 2013 team to a 30-14 victory.

GC Alumni triumphs over County Pride

Recently the Grant County Alumni football team took the field against County Pride, a team consisting of players from Harrison, Bourbon, Montgomery and Clark County, in the first gridiron alumni game. The Braves, coached by former Head Coach Mike Davis and former Assistant Coach Ken Little, led the Braves that ranged from players of the 1996 team to the 2013 team to a 30-14 victory.

Grant County had 34 players all from Grant County and all ages, shapes and sizes. The team spanned the generation of coaches Monty Jo Lovell, Mike Croley, Mike Bowlin, Mike Davis, David Arvin and most recently, Kevin Siple,. The big generation gap was quickly bonded through over 40 hours of preparation for the game in multiple practices over six weeks. Not everyone could make every practice but most showed up when they could.

"We averaged around 15-20 players per practice", said head coach Mike Davis. "The players were awesome to work with, most I coached while I was here but some I didn't but it was a blast to get to coach them all. Heck we had one of the biggest offensive line I had ever put on the field. They were awesome to work with. It was all about them and getting to strap the pads on one more time and relive the glory days. Everyone had a great time."

The Braves had a lot to celebrate as they set the tone early when a punt that was fielded by County Pride was jarred loose by a big hit from Justin Loomis and recovered by the Braves. A few minutes later, Loomis found the end zone with some punishing runs and a 6 yard scamper into the end zone set up by a pass from Nathan Davis to Randy Salyers the play before that put them down close to the goal line. Preston Cahill added the extra point. The Braves led 7-0, on the ensuing kickoff, Cahill skied a kick that was mishandled and recovered by the Braves. At the end of the first quarter the Braves led 7-0. Early in second quarter, the Braves pulled out some trickery and Davis hit the oldest Brave's alumni, Jamie Courtney for a 25-yard touchdown to give the Braves a 14-0 lead after the Cahill extra point. The defense stayed strong during the first half and kept getting turnovers and getting the ball back to the offense. Late in second quarter, the Braves struck again. Davis with a pass to Cory Haar put the Braves inside the 10-yard line. The Braves powered the ball down close to the goal line with hard runs by Craig Hammons and Cory Haar and then an over powering quarterback sneak by Brian Hammons and the strong Braves offensive line. The Braves converted the two-point play with a pass from Davis to Alan Workman. The defense didn't let up and kept the shut out going into half time with Braves leading 22-0.

In the second half, it was all about the defense. The Braves did give up a touchdown on a run. The punishment of the defensive line, with Joe Stolz and Ryan Williams and the aggressive play by linebackers Ryan Adams, Cory Haar, Josh Rump, Terrell Spray and Dewey Takacy locked up any running threat by County Pride. The defensive secondary led by Ronnie White, Daryl Neidigh and Alan Workman kept the receiving core at bay and only gave up one big pass on the last play of the game.

"The defense flew all over the field tonight, they were aggressive and gang tackled and got to the football and caused turnovers", said Defensive Coordinator Ken Little.

"This bunch was great and did an amazing job getting the ball back to the offense in good field position so we could score more points. We were excited to get to play, the offense seemed to be on the field most of the first half, so in the second we just brought it at them. Awesome bunch of guys that I had the pleasure to coach out here tonight. Everyone played and had a good time."

The Braves went the ground again wearing out yardage with the big backs Dustin Haar and Craig Hammons in the second half. Randy Salyers lifted the Braves running by pounding up the middle and outside from the quarterback spot to wear down the opponent.

Salyers and Terrell Spray had big runs in the second half to keep the chains moving and the Braves offense clicking. The last touchdown and the nail in the coffin was a pass from Davis to Ryan Williams and a fake pat from Davis to Dustin Haar.

This all set up by outstanding play by the defense. That pushed the score to 30-8 which it held until the last play of the game. A touchdown pass by County Pride ended the game at 30-14. In the game there were three sets of brothers to play with each other with Brian and Craig Hammons. Michael and Troy Brooks and a trio of Haar's: Cory, Tyler, and Dustin.

The team raised money for the present Grant County High School football team and 50 percent of all presale tickets went Grant County High School Football team.The grand total was $1,403.50. Photos submitted

"I felt like I was coaching a college team. Our offensive line was huge and good. Michael and Troy Brooks at tackles and Jeremey Faust anchoring at Center and Adam Bolog, Ross Ginter and Joe Stolz. Then you throw in Brandon "Big Epp" Epperson, Justin Smith and Ben Mansfield. Heck any running back or quarterback would want those guys in front of them," said Mike Davis. "I was very proud to have been a part of this game and pleased I could coach these Braves. They are all great men and I am very happy for them and can't wait to do it again".

Kaitlyn Kinman

Taylor Souder

Lady Braves rout S. Oldham

By Tim Seevers
Sports Correspondent

The Grant County High School Lady Braves softball team honored two seniors, Taylor Souder and Kaitlyn Kinman, on May 14.

Souder and Kinman have been devoted players for the Braves since sixth grade.

Souder has played varsity softball, starting since the seventh grade and is the daughter of Greg Souder and Jackie Perkins. Her favorite memory playing softball was simply that she enjoyed every minute that she had with her teammates.

Souder plans on attending college in a couple of years working toward a degree in criminal justice.

Kinman has also played softball for Grant County for 8 years. She is the daughter of Debra and Scott Kinman. KK as she is known to her teammates said her favorite memory was playing with this year's team.

Kinman plans on attending Bluegrass Community Technical College working toward a degree in radiology.

Both girls left a message for the younger players. "Work hard, do your best and enjoy the time you have. Enjoy playing while you can because it will end before you know it."

They also routed South Oldham 9-0.

It didn't take long for the seniors to show why they are an important part of this team.

Souder led off the bottom half of the first inning with a double.

After a couple of outs, Madison Ruebusch drew a walk.

Brenna Nolte then stepped to the plate and hit a double to left field that plated both Souder and Ruebusch.

Nolte then stole third and came home on Savannah Cobb's single.

Alayna Barnes drew a walk and then Mason McClure lined a single bringing in Cobb who had advanced to third on a wild pitch.

After a fielder's choice groundout to end the inning, the Braves had scored four runs with two outs.

Souder would lead off the second inning with a single and come in when fellow senior Kinman doubled to left center.

The Lady Braves would go on to score one run in the fourth, one in the fifth and two more runs in the sixth inning pushing their lead to 9-0.

South Oldham would never challenge the Lady Braves during the game.

Pitcher Alayna Barnes pitched six strong innings allowing no runs and only five hits. She would walk two and strike out five.

Kinman got a rare opportunity to pitch the final inning for the Lady Braves. She walked two batters and struck out one.

Seniors Souder and Kinman led the Lady Braves in hitting. Both collected three hits. Each had a double and two singles.

Kinman also drove in two runs.

Brenna Nolte collected two hits, a double and a single and drove in two runs.

"Approximately 60 charity events were provided by their company," Kinman-Rothwell said.

"We were both shocked when we learned that we would be getting this award. We were appreciative and humbled by receiving such a prestigious award," Caudill said.

Wildcats and More, formerly The Kentucky Shop, branched out to selling Cincinnati Reds and Cincinnati Bengals items last year.

The store primarily offers a variety of apparel for men, women, youth and babies. Fanatics can also find novelty items like foam fingers, koozie cups and stickers to flaunt their allegiance to their favorite local team.

The store commits a tremendous amount of time and effort in to the community.

"We feel as if the people of Grant County have welcomed us in as a part of this community, thus we feel obligated to these people to help them out in any way possible. We try to help out all charities and schools. We need to support the people who have made our business such a success. We want the people of this county to experience different opportunities. If we are able to help anyone out, we will try our best to do so," Caudill said.

In addition to managing Wildcats and More Fortner and Caudill have families outside of their UK family.

Rothwell-Kinman said Fortner's life is all about his children.

"He has given up tickets to see UK because his children have something on the same date, he gives them away," Rothwell-Kinman said.

"The community is how we survive as a business, so we feel that we need to give back to the area with special events and community service throughout the year." Fortner said.

With summer just around the corner, Wildcats and More have plenty in store for Grant County.

There will be player signings throughout the summer starting in June.

There will be ex-Cats from the early 1990's to present; including many NBA players.

They will also be holding basketball camps for Grant County at Williamstown High School.

On June 11, Wildcats and More will be teaming up with Jon Hood to have a 'We Can Play!! Inc.' Basketball Camp for special needs persons ages 5-21. There will be no cost for participation in this camp, signups for this camp begun on May 6.

On June 23, the store will be teaming up with Hood and Jarrod Polson to hold an Elite basketball skills camp. This camp is for ages 7-16 and the cost is $40 ($35 for early registration). The price includes instruction from Jon Hood, Jarrod Polson and others, lunch, T-shirt, and autograph/picture session with all ex-Cats in attendance.

The store will also be helping organizations throughout the county to raise money.

"We just want to thank the greatest UK fans in the state (our customers) for welcoming us into their community. We love them all," Caudill said.

Man faces manslaughter charge in 2014 fatal wreck

By Bryan Marshall
Staff Writer

A 32-year-old Grant County man was indicted May 6 for second-degree manslaughter in connection with a December 2014 fatal car accident.

Christopher M. Webster was arrested and charged with second-degree manslaughter, operating a vehicle under the influence, first offense within a five-year period, failure to maintain required insurance and being a persistent felony offender.

The charges stem from a fatal accident Dec. 16, 2014, on U.S. 25 in Corinth that resulted in the death of 50-year-old Anna Eldridge of Dry Ridge.

Eldridge was a passenger in a 1997 Chevy pickup truck driven southbound on US. 25 in Corinth by Webster when the truck left the roadway.

The truck went off the side of the road around 4:45 a.m., striking rock debris and sliding more than 700 feet before hitting an embankment, according to the Grant County Sheriff's Office.

Eldridge was outside of the vehicle when authorities arrived on the scene and was likely ejected from the vehicle, according to Sheriff Chuck Dills.

Eldridge was transported to the University of Cincinnati Medical Center, where she later was pronounced dead.

Webster, who was still inside the vehicle, was treated and released from St. Elizabeth-Grant County with a cut to the head and injuries to his shoulder, arm and leg.

Police suspect that both were not wearing their seat belts at the time of the accident.

Initially, Webster was cited for failure to maintain insurance and not having registration.

Deputy Tony Stigers investigated the accident and additional charges were pending blood test results.

"(Webster) had methamphetamine in his system, according to the results from his blood test," Dills said. "It had been an ongoing investigation pending the results of the lab test. The lab is currently backlogged, which was the reason for the delay."

Webster was lodged in the Grant County Detention Center.

LAWSUIT: amended to add current jailer, judge

Skinner was terminated from the facility on Jan. 2, 2015 after spending several months off work under the Family Medical Leave Act (FMLA) after he received a head injury following an assault on Oct. 5, 2014.

Skinner's employment at the facility, however, was questionable beginning on April 17, 2014 after he had an altercation with his wife and was charged with domestic violence. Skinner was placed on administrative leave following his arrest. Peeples said he would wait and see if Skinner were found guilty of the charges.

"We do not employ employees with a domestic violence conviction," Peeples said in an April 2014 issue of the Grant County News. "When this is said and done, if he has a domestic violence conviction against him, I will discharge his employment."

A Grant County jury convicted Skinner of domestic violence on July 31, 2014. He was ordered to pay a $500 fine and court costs, but was not sentenced to probation or ordered to serve any jail time.

He also remained an employee at the jail until he was terminated by Hankins. Peeples transferred Skinner from working with inmates to working in the front office.

Hankins said he has not changed policy since taking office.

"We are working on updating employee policies right now," said Hankins, following the lawsuit being amended. "It's in the process."

Hankins said Skinner was terminated because the jail records show that Skinner signed a "criminal offense acknowledgement" that says, "I understand that my conduct both inside and outside the office reflects upon the office itself. I further understand that due to the nature of my employment, it would reflect negatively upon my office if I were to be charged and convicted of a criminal offense. I further understand and agree that if I am charged and convicted of a criminal offense, from this date forward, my job will be terminated immediately." This document was dated Jan. 23, 2008 and signed by Skinner and former jailer Steve Kellam.

Hankins said that Skinner had also signed two separate dispute resolution forms saying that he would participate in mediation before filing a lawsuit against the county. The first form was dated July 21, 2005 and the second form was dated Jan. 31, 2008.

"To my knowledge, Steven Skinner did not abide by those documents that he signed," Hankins said.

Hankins said it is also his understanding that employees of the GCDC had undergone sexual harassment training, which included training on domestic violence being a crime, in 2012 and 2013.

"Since the time of Steve Kellam, each and every job description all the way to the top plainly says that you can't have a domestic violence judgment against you," Hankins said.

Hankins said that employment training records from 2012 have not been located since he took office.

"The laptop computer, which was used for training purposes at the facility, according to the county's information technology person, has been wiped clean and Steven Skinner was in possession of this laptop until he was asked to return it," Hankins said.

Skinner was employed by the GCDC for 10 years.

WRECK

Audra Taylor was driving a Toyota Camry on Delia Hill, three miles outside of Dry Ridge, when the accident occurred.

Audra suffered a fractured right leg and wrist, a cut forehead and a spleen laceration, according to court documents. She was hospitalized for five days at the University of Cincinnati Medical Center.

Her then 10-year-old son, Ashton, suffered wrist fractures, a fractured finger, a subdural hematoma, a cut lip and permanent scaring. He spent three days at the University of Kentucky Medical Center.

Audra's then-3-year-old son, Ty, suffered a severe spinal cord injury in the wreck that has left him in a motorized wheelchair. He spent extensive time at the Cincinnati Children's Hospital.

The Grant County community rallied around Ty and his family, holding several fundraisers to help with medical bills.

On the day of the wreck, a concerned 911 caller reported a vehicle driven by Asher swerving all over southbound Interstate 75, near mile marker 161, and nearly hitting multiple vehicles.

Kentucky State Police Trooper Steve Robb responded to the call and located both vehicles still smoking from the head-on collision on Delia Hill.

Robb found Asher laying in a nearby ditch a few feet from his vehicle's driver's door, according to court documents.

Asher, who had suffered a broken right leg, gave inconsistent statements to how the wreck occurred, had slurred speech and was drowsy.

Robb, along with statements by two licensed paramedics and certified EMTs on the scene, concluded that Asher was under the influence of heroin and/or opiates that impaired his ability to operate the vehicle.

Under his plea agreement, the Commonwealth Attorney's Office is recommending for Asher a 15-year sentence, a $1,000 fine, revocation of his driver's license for 18 months and a DUI service fee.

The agreement requires that Asher waive the right to appeal.

He must serve 85 percent of his sentence before becoming eligible for parole.

Asher will be formally sentenced on June 24 in Grant Circuit Court.

The Commonwealth Attorney's Office agreed that Asher may be released for five days on a $50,000 unsecured bond sometime between his guilty plea and his sentence date.

During his release, Asher would be on house arrest at his parent's home, wearing an ankle bracelet monitor and he must obey all conditions of the bond.

Jemma Thornton really likes pie! For the second year in a row, Thornton was the recipient of a pie in the face after customers of Heritage Bank "voted' with donations for the employee they wanted to see get a pie in the eye as part of a Grant County Relay For Life fundraiser. Alice Ingram, team recruitment chair for the relay, was asked to "give" Thornton her pie last week. Thornton serves as the team captain for the Heritage Bank Relay For Life team. The relay is the signature fundraising event for the American Cancer Society.
